INTRODUCTORY NOTE

In the very brief statement here offered an attempt has been made to exhibit in definite, tangible form some of the results of the educational campaigns which have been conducted in the Southern States during the last six years, and to which the Southern Education Board has contributed funds. The results here exhibited did not all spring directly and solely from these contributions; but an effort has been made to exclude every result which these contributions have not shared in effecting. It should be said, furthermore, that the largest, the most important result of these campaigns and of the contributions that have made them possible is an aroused and enlightened public sentiment in the interest of better educational opportunities for all the people. This result resists every effort at tabulation or tangible exhibit; but it is none the less real; it is organic, all pervading, and will continue for years to come to express itself in better laws, more adequate funds, more effective educational organization and activities. The statement here offered as an exhibit of returns on the Board's educational investment is very conservative.

WICKLIFFE ROSE,

Executive Secretary.

TENNESSEE

I. Educational campaigns:

1. Conducted from 1904 to 1910.

2. Contributed by Southern Education Board $11,592.12

II. Purposes and results of educational campaigns by periods.

1. Preliminary campaign 1902-1903.

a. Purpose:

(1) To increase general interest in education.

b. Results:

(1) Act appropriating surplus in State treasury to common schools. (In 1905 this surplus amounted to about $497,500.)

(2) Appropriated to University of Tennessee..... 12,500.00

2. Campaigns of 1904-1905.

a. Purpose:

(1) To arouse general interest in education and specifically to increase county and city levies for schools.

b. Result:

(2) Appropriation to the University.... 25,000.00

3. Campaigns 1906-1907.

a. Purposes:

(1) A State appropriation of 75 cents per capita for each child of school age.

(2) An annual appropriation of $50,000 to be paid on a scholastic per capita basis to such counties as will levy a tax of 40 cents on the hundred dollars and $2 on the poll.

(3) An annual appropriation of $25,000 for high schools.

- (4) An annual appropriation of $5,000 for school libraries.
- (5) An annual appropriation of $75,000 for the establishment and support of three normal schools.
- (6) An annual appropriation of $50,000 to the State University.

b. Results:

- (1) Seventy-five cents per capita for common schools.
- (2) $50,000 annually for counties levying for schools 40 cents on the hundred dollars and $2 on the poll.
- (3) $100,000 to the University for the biennial period.
- (4) $40,000 for the establishment of an agricultural and horticultural experiment station in West Tennessee.
- (5) County Board Law enacted substituting County Boards of Education for District Boards.

4. Campaigns of 1907, 1908, and 1909.

a. Purposes:

- (1) To increase school levies in counties and cities.
- (2) To secure better support for high schools.
- (3) To improve school-houses and grounds.
- (4) Main purpose to secure passage of General Education Bill and the enactment of compulsory attendance law.

b. Results:

- (1) Large increase in city and county levies.

- (2) Rapid increase in high school development.
- (3) Enactment of General Education Bill (1909) giving 25 per cent of the revenues of the State to public education, apportioned as follows: 61 per cent directly to the common schools on a per capita basis; 10 per cent to the counties levying for schools 40 cents on the hundred dollars and $2 on the poll, and to these counties in proportion to scholastic population and in inverse ratio to taxable property to scholastic population (after the beginning of 1911 the State duplicates the salary of county superintendent up to $350, the money for this being taken from this 10 per cent fund); 1 per cent for school libraries; 8 per cent for public high schools; 13 per cent for the establishment and maintenance of normal schools; 7 per cent for the University of Tennessee. The total fund amounts to about $900,000 a year. The Legislature also passed compulsory school attendance laws applying to one-third the counties of the State, and passed a bill authorizing counties and cities to issue bonds for buildings and equipment of the State normal schools. Money, land, and equipment have been given for this purpose to the extent of $975,000.

5. Campaigns of 1909-1910.

a. Purposes:

- (1) The increase of appropriations for public education from 25 per cent to 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ per cent of the revenues of the State.
- (2) A general act enabling county courts to issue bonds for buildings, equipment, and repair of public school buildings.
- (3) A general revision and codification of the school laws of the State.
- (4) Extension of compulsory school attendance laws of the State.

b. Results:

- (1) Law enabling county courts to issue bonds for building, maintaining, and equipping school-houses.
- (2) Law extending compulsory attendance to a larger number of counties.

NOTE.—Failure of expected educational legislation due to abnormal political conditions, which disrupted the Legislature.

Total increase for 11 States..... $18,169,848

This means that these eleven States are spending in round numbers $18,000,000 more each year for public schools than they were spending in 1900. The educational campaigns have been an important factor in bringing about this result. To aid in maintaining these campaigns the Southern Education Board has expended from $30,000 to $40,000 a year during this period.
